HONGKONG, MONDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1890.

THE approaching celebration of the colony's Jubilee induces us to endeavour to recall to the minds of our readers—by a series of reproductions from old contemporaries which will appear to-morrow—some of the most notable events in the first year of its existence, and in doing so it cannot but be satisfactory to know, that the originators of the "happy thought" of this celebration should be gentlemen like the Hon. CATHERINE PAUL CHATER and Mr. THOMAS JACKSON, men, who have done so much towards making the colony what it is, and who have taken such great interest in its welfare and prosperity, and when the centennial celebration of the existence of Hongkong comes to be observed, we have only to hope, that citizens equally worthy and deserving of the colony's esteem may be found amongst the prime movers of that further notable epoch. Amongst the many suggestions which the Jubilee Committee will doubtless receive for the commemoration of this interesting event, we venture to make one in favour of the establishment of a "Gordon's Home" for the waifs and strays of our numerous population. We make this suggestion the more readily because, when the gallant CHARLES GEORGE GORDON was last amongst us, he was, as he himself described it—a "waif." GORDON, as we all know, left Bombay, at a moment's notice, on the invitation of Sir ROBERT HART on behalf of the Chinese Government, upon a mission of peace and benevolence. He arrived here in the P. & O. Steamer Avoca and after a stay of two or three days, during which he paid a flying visit to Canton to confer with the Viceroy, he proceeded to Peking and exerted all his powerful influence, and successfully too, in preventing the threatened rupture between China and Russia. On his return to Hongkong, after steadfastly refusing all proffers of remuneration, even to the extent of his travelling expenses, he found himself stranded in Hongkong—having expended the whole of the money he had brought from India, and in that most charming and humorous manner which so characterized him, he appeared "as a waif" before Mr. THOMAS JACKSON and sought his assistance, which it is needless to say, was readily granted, and the courtesy and kindness that he received under the circumstances from the Chief Manager of the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank was one of the most pleasant of Gordon's last reminiscences of Hongkong. Knowing these facts, the idea naturally suggested itself that the memorial should take the form of some worthy object, and associate it with the name of that great Englishman whose remarkable career in Europe, Asia and Africa adds lustre to the last half of the nineteenth century. It seems singularly befitting that the British colony of Hongkong should commemorate in some manner its appreciation of Chinese Gordon, and what more appropriate time than that of its Jubilee? Not only do we think that the movement will be popular amongst foreigners of all classes, but the Chinese will, we are sure, support it with all possible fervour and zeal.

As advertised, Mr. J. D. Humphrey's racing stud was submitted to public auction at Shanghai on the 26th ultimo but only two ponies were sold, the reserves apparently being too high. Visitation brought this and Venger this 100. This being the case, it is to be hoped that the interest in racing the popular "Red, white and blue" will be seen once again in Happy Valley in February next.

YESTERDAY afternoon a slight accident happened to the up-going tram-car shortly after leaving the station. By some means the cable got off one of the guiding pulleys at the first curve. The car was almost immediately stopped, but before several of the passengers had been torn up and the car derailed. The passengers lost no time in getting out of the car, which was delayed about two hours in consequence of the mishap.

A CORRESPONDENT draws our attention to the fact that, the name of the unfortunate gentleman about whom so much has been written in connection with the Stanley expedition, Jameson and not Jameson as has appeared in the Hongkong press. We make the correction with pleasure and also add our correspondent that his opinion on the sensational stories about the behaviour of Mr. Jameson and Major Bartlett, is ours too.

THE steamship Toonah, after being in collision with the Wanchow at Newchwang, arrived at Shanghai on the 23rd instant. Commenting on the manner in which her engineers effected the necessary repairs prior to sailing for Shanghai the Mercury says, much credit indeed is due to Mr. Orwin and the other engineers of the Toonah for the admirable way in which the injuries the vessel sustained by her collision with the Wanchow were temporarily repaired by them under very trying circumstances. A heavy snowstorm was raging all the time the work was under way and yet the hole made in the Toonah's starboard quarter by the anchor fluke of the Wanchow was covered with a plate of iron, riveted to the vessel's side in the most substantial manner.

TSANG LI who made his appearance before Mr. Woodhouse last Friday owing to the death of a coolie whom he had slain with an axe at No. 1, Tak Sing Lane, West Point, the day before, had another interview with his Worship at the Police Court this morning when a girl living in the house where the fatal assault took place gave evidence to the effect that the deceased was quietly cleaning some vegetables in a passage when the prisoner suddenly turned back, split the deceased's head open with an axe and then ran away. The prisoner, and deceased, she said, had no quarrel prior to the assault. She knew of no reason whatever for the savage act of the prisoner. The case was adjourned until Monday next.

THE Army and Navy Gazette gravely remarks that if the money expended upon the scientific branches of the navy is not always employed in a very judicious manner, the Ranvier is spending a fourth season in the survey of the Chusan Archipelago, to the southward of Shanghai, although the charts which have already been made of that portion of the coast are quite sufficiently accurate for all practical purposes, as both Captain Verker and Commander W. Moore spent a good deal of time on the work. "Surveying officers," says the Gazette, "that they are continually hampered by their instructions from the Home Office, and that a great deal of useless work is thus carried out to the neglect of really important surveys recommended by themselves and by the admirals of foreign stations."

WE are informed by the agents (Messrs. Adamson, Bell & Co.) that the steamship Ghaeze left Singapore for this port yesterday afternoon, and is due about the 7th inst.

THE Kuling, the intended pioneer boat for the Ichang-Chungking river service, respecting which enterprise heaps of correspondence passed between Downing Street and Peking, has been converted into a twin-screw steamer and left Shanghai for Hankow and Ichang on the 25th ultimo.

A JAPANESE contemporary hears that the proposition to raise a telegraph loan for the purpose of purchasing the Great Northern Telegraph Co.'s cable between Nagasaki and Russia, and of establishing telegraphic communication with Kogoshima, the Loo-Choo, Sado, Oki, and various other places where lighthouses are situated, has met with the approval of the Cabinet and that a Bill to raise a loan of $6,000,000 for this and the extension of railways will be submitted to the Diet this year.

THE fleet of the Sultan of Zanzibar does not seem to be a very formidable affair. It is composed of what were lately private steamers, for the most part old and ancient, armed with guns half-a-century old. Etiquette lately demanded that these vessels should salute the foreign ships in port, and it is reported to have been a wonderful sight to see the native gunners going through the ordeal. Ultimately with the aid of a red-hot pepper, the cannon were discharged at such long and irregular intervals as to seriously diminish the pomp of the proceeding.

It is understood, says the Kwang Pao, that a telegram has been received from Peking relative to the disputed question of Hongkong chartered junks, to the effect that the trade between Hongkong and Canton differs from that between the Treaty ports and that Hongkong junks, whether chartered or not, come under the native Customs. The point is not very material, for the duties levied by the native Customs are as a rule, lighter than those payable under tariff at the foreign Customs. In addition to these duties levied on native Customs here or at Kowloon, an attempt to levy either lemon or battery tax on foreign-owned goods, whether shipped by junk or foreign vessel, it is so clearly illegal that there can be no doubt it can be successfully resisted.

HAIR on Sir William C. Robinson this—The resignation of Sir William Cleaver Robinson to Western Australia is being anxiously looked forward to by the colonists, with whom he made himself exceedingly popular during his previous governorship of the Colony. Both Sir William and his elder brother, Sir Hercules, have got on remarkably well in the Colonial service. The latter has now thrown off his official harness, however, and gone for a bank holiday to the Continent. During his last governorship—at the Cape—he is said to have made a pot of money out of Griqualand diamonds and if he ever gets a chance to give Cecil Rhodes a friendly kick forward in the direction of a knighthood he is bound to do it. As for the new Governor of the wild Western Colony of Australia, he lives pleasantly on his salary, doing his duty well and truly at all times, and devoting his spare time to musical composition. He has already turned out some very good songs, which are sung everywhere at the Antipodes.

SIR JAMES RUSSELL, Chief Justice, and Mr. Fielding Clarke, Puisne Judge, heard lengthy arguments at the Supreme Court this morning by Mr. Leach, instructed by Mr. Wilkinson, vs Su Fei Wan, who was produced in Court by Mr. Pollock, instructed by Mr. Hastings. Mr. Pollock, instructed by a writ of habeas corpus in the present case. Mr. Leach contended that the work of money out of Griqualand diamonds in an irregular manner and that the evidence of the two witnesses for the prosecution had been proved to be false, and further that the Magistrate, in committing the prisoner to goal pending the order of the Governor-in-Council, said he had grave doubts as to the correctness of the course he was pursuing and would report fully to His Excellency the Officer Administering the Government, as to the reasons upon which his suspicion was based. The Chief Justice, in declining to grant the writ maintained that the Magistrate's order of the proceeding was correct. Had it not been an extradition case that official would have committed the man to goal and reported fully to His Excellency the Acting Governor who is empowered to use his discretion in the matter. The prisoner would therefore be remanded pending His Excellency's direction as to whether or not he should be handed over to the authorities upon the grounds that he committed burglary and murder within the dominions of the Emperor of China.

SATURDAY, 29th NOVEMBER, 1890.
A Gymkhana meeting under the auspices of the Polo Club, was held at the race-course on Saturday afternoon and proved most successful so far as the actual racing was concerned, but the fields were far too small. The weather was as near perfection as anyone could desire, being bright and clear, with a cool breeze blowing. The attendance was fairly large, and as is the usual custom, quite a number of ladies put in an appearance. The band and pipers accompanied the various appointments bestowed by the Committee of Council, with regard to the service and personal merits of the officers, subject of course, to the approval of the Secretary of State.

That to prevent the evil effects constantly arising in certain departments from frequent changes of officers, it be laid down as the rule that, unless under very exceptional circumstances, the occupants of the undermentioned offices be not entitled to and are not to look for any promotion, acting or permanent, out of their own departments. The offices are: Registrar and Deputy Registrars Supreme Court, the Police Magistrates, the Land Officer and the Chief Clerk at the Magistracy; the occupants of these offices to be legally qualified when fresh appointments are made to them in the future; the Interpreters of the Supreme Court, and the Clerk of Councils and Chief Clerk in the Colonial Secretary's office.

That in fixing the maximum salary for the officers above mentioned the rule of immovability be borne in mind, and the maximum salary made equivalent to any promotion in the occupant of the office might reasonably hope to obtain if the rule had not been made.

These resolutions had been framed by him because he felt that the purpose of them should be to receive the earnest consideration of Government. At the first meeting appointed to consider the Estimates he moved a very similar resolution but the Acting Colonial Secretary would not allow them to be discussed, or put to the vote or appear in the report. The unofficial members had given their most serious attention to the salaries question and were of opinion that many fees, special grants and allowances should be discontinued and that in all cases officials should receive a fixed salary. They considered it advisable that for each post under Government there should be a fixed minimum and maximum salary. It was their (the unofficials) opinion that were this done there would be an end of complaints on the ground that there was not sufficient promotion. He ventured to suggest that his resolution should receive the careful consideration of the Government whom he would ask to forward a copy of the resolution to the Secretary of State for the Colonies.

Mr. Ryrie in seconding the resolution said he was sure it was highly desirable that in all but very exceptional cases the maximum salaries of officials should be made equivalent to any reasonable promotion that they could expect. It was very necessary that they should know exactly what could be expected when accepting office under Government. It might appear on the face of it, as hardship to prohibit officials from filling several offices at one time, but he was convinced that it was necessary and would result in ultimate benefit to the Colony. He had much pleasure in seconding the honourable member's resolution.

His Excellency said that the allusions made by Mr. Whitehead in opening his remarks, relative to the resolution before the House, were out of order. He would not go so far as to say that the references to the Acting Colonial Secretary were made in a disrespectful manner, but he considered them to be unwelcome, as out of order. The Select Committee on Supplies in the House of Commons and he therefore thought that Mr. Whitehead had taken a proper course in submitting the resolution to the Council, it being unusual for such propositions to be brought forward in Committee. To the first three paragraphs of the resolution he had no objections. As to the fourth and fifth paragraphs he was not at the present time in a position to agree to them. It might be desirable to remove officials from their specific duties of their posts as far as possible and this should be made no doubt, was avoided whenever the exigencies of the public service could be met in that way. He would, however, be the last to say that a Police Magistrate should not be allowed to accept any other post. It would prevent those in office from looking forward to promotion. The term "exceptional circumstances" was a somewhat unknown quantity and was difficult to explain, and it was therefore well impossible to say what would constitute an exceptional circumstance. He thought the fourth paragraph a dangerous suggestion, and he could not do so without the approval of the Secretary of State. If the honourable member would not press the resolution to a division at once he would agree to forward a copy of it to the Secretary of State together with his own suggestions, but it must not be understood that he agreed with the whole of it.

Mr. Whitehead—Under the circumstances I will withdraw the resolution. I am quite satisfied that it will reach the Secretary of State and that is the object I had in putting it before the House.

Mr. Kewick said he had been absent, and given but little attention to the matter. He had signed the resolution, but desired it to be understood that he dissented from the proposition as made in the fourth paragraph, at least in as far as it was pointed out as impracticable by His Excellency.

His Excellency—I may mention that our present Chief Justice was once a magistrate and he is an ornament to the Bench. It would indeed be undesirable that it be made impossible for magistrates to be promoted.
